Choose a title:

In this section of the funeral program the deceased's life is highlighted in a biography listing all the achievements and accomplishments that he/she made in life. It is also a known tradition to include personal information about the deceased such as the city and state he/she was born, education, work history, special interests and hobbies, associations of local and national organizations, volunteer work and military ranking & credentials. It's a great idea to highlight the spouse and the immediate family of the deceased, recognizing them during the funeral services.
